

The Tourism Project

What are your thoughts?

I'm working on a new writing project that is intended to be an objective, research-driven essay about tourism and life in small- and medium-sized towns.

I'd like to gather as many perspectives as possible. I've put together a brief survey for you to provide yours. Please scan the QR code at right to access the survey on your smartphone.

The survey won't take you more than five minutes to complete.

Please don't hesitate to send me an email if you have any questions about my project.

THANK YOU!

Ben Erlandson - ben.erlandson@gmail.com

Depending on the direction this project takes, there may be much more here than just the initial essay that gets published in a magazine or journal (and eventually on my blog). I hope it gets bigger. I'd like to move it toward a book about tourism, with in-depth examples and case studies from various municipalities around the United States, or perhaps even around the world.

Initially, though, I intend to focus on municipalities in western North Carolina, and southwestern Virginia, since those are the areas that are most readily accessible to me from my home base in Glade Valley, North Carolina.